

Judges for the 15th Annual Eastern Shore Camera Club Member's Exhibit

Nancy Raia has served as the Community Outreach Director at the Eastern Shore Art Center for over 23 years, and currently is serving as Artist in Residence at the United States Sports Academy. She loves teaching students of all ages 3-103) and abilities, her favorite topic to teach and enlarge in others is creative thinking . She has won awards in various arenas, as an artist and a teacher, locally and statewide and had shows traveling the country. Nancy believes the arts reach people in ways beyond normal communication, and are a valuable part of a healthy society.

Ed Bloodsworth is the chief meteorologist for WKRG Channel 5, serving the Mobile area. An active member of the American Meteorological Society and the National Weather Association, he holds the Certified Broadcast Meteorologist (CBM) designation from the AMS. Ed is from Tampa, Florida. When not forecasting for the Gulf Coast, you will find Ed exploring local museums, hiking and nature trails, and the best eateries around. Ed is also an avid bowler. You'll find him coaching youth bowlers in the area and rolling in local tournaments.

Richard Weaver is a 26 year Navy veteran who has been a photography aficionado since he was a teen. He started with an Argus C-3 and a home darkroom and has progressed to Canon mirrorless and Lightroom/Photoshop over the course of his photography life. He is past president of The Wide Angle Photo Club in Pensacola and has won many awards in various photography shows/contests. His photography interests span everything from portraits to landscapes to macro photography to travel photography to abstract/art photography. He is an inveterate traveler and travel photographer, traveling for photo-ops as much as for the thrill of new places.